

Good Thinking™
BRUNEL DESIGN 04

Good Thinking : Brunel Design 04 was the UK's largest student-run design show, featuring the work of 130+ graduating students in product design and engineering disciplines from Brunel University's Runnymede design school in Surrey. Opened by Richard Seymour of SeymourPowell, and open over 3 days to industry, the public and visiting schools' design technology departments, the show was independently funded by students' own activities together with gratefully received sponsorship from companies including Pashley Cycles and Vosper Thornycroft. Live demonstrations of working projects created interest and there was substantial media coverage of a number of innovative projects. See photos and more details at www.goodthinking.org.uk
